Board of Director Statement

The Board of Directors at Assunnah Primary School believe that high standards of behaviour lie at the heart of a successful school and enable children to make the best possible progress in all aspects of their school life. At Assunnah Primary School, we value everyone as an individual, capable of growth, change and development. Our relationships are underpinned by our school values of faithfulness, tolerance, patience, respect, gratitude and justice; we have high expectations and support the development of our pupils as effective and responsible British Muslim citizens.

The Prophet Muhammed, Peace be upon him, said, "The best of you are those who have the best manners." (Bukhari and Muslim) Our School's policy on behaviour is based on Islamic principles and the Sunnah of the Prophet Muhammad SAW. As the Quran states, we firmly believe, 'Verily, you have in the Messenger of Allah an excellent example for him who hopes in Allah and the Last Day and remembers Allah much' (Quran 33.21). With good behaviour being a requirement of our faith, we propose creating a calm, respectful, fair, happy and safe environment where pupils can work towards achieving their full potential. We recognise that children's behaviour and wellbeing directly impact their learning progress and their ability to succeed in life. Thus, our primary aim is to teach children to develop the skills to make good choices and to learn how to behave in a variety of settings and environments to be fully successful throughout their lives

AIMS OF THIS POLICY

- To set out guidelines so that the behaviour management systems and processes can work alongside our Islamic values charter.

- To have a consistent approach to behaviour throughout the school.
- To make boundaries of acceptable behaviour clear and to ensure safety.

CLASS TEACHER'S ROLE

The class teachers' example is critical to nurturing caring, positive and collaborative relationships. A climate of high levels of pupil engagement, effort, co-operation, and mutual respect should be created as part of the classroom culture. All adult interactions with children should follow and model our Islamic Value ethos, fostering mutual respect, fairness, consistency, encouragement, and praise. Each teacher is responsible for maintaining discipline within their own class. They will:

- Create an environment that promotes self-esteem, self-discipline and independence so that each child learns to accept responsibility for his/her own behaviour.
- Have high expectations of children's attitudes to learning, play and transitions through school.
- Encourage, praise and listen to children.
- Have a consistent approach to behaviour following the behaviour policy and maintain the individual Behaviour Plans for pupils identified as needing specialised help with their behaviour.
- Know each pupil as an individual and be aware of their (special) needs.
- Keep a written record using the Good to be green behaviour logs and ensure that the Head teacher/SLT are informed of any red/yellow incidents within that same day.
- Only the headteacher or a member of SLT can issue a red card
- Involve parents, pupils and staff in the implementation of this policy.
- Issue a yellow card if it is deemed necessary for the behaviour

RULES

To have a provision that promotes self-esteem, self-discipline and independence, we must have a consistent approach to behaviour throughout the school. The Assunnah Values of Faithfulness, Tolerance, Patience, Respect, Gratitude and Justice provide such boundaries and should be referred to as a point of reference by all adults in school.

REWARDS

The teacher will nominate one class member each week to receive a Value Ambassador certificate. The headteacher or a teacher spends some time with those children by having a drink together.

Whole School Reward System:

In addition to Stay on Green, our approach for rewarding and encouraging good behaviour, effort and manners is based on the collection of Class dojo house points. All staff members, including volunteers, lunchtime and additional support staff, can access the class dojo. A new dojo point is started every Thursday when the

The old one is counted. The house that collects the most points is awarded Golden Time on Friday from 11:00-11:30. This is subject to change based on school operational changes.

A poster reinforcing the value of the month, growth-mindset reminders, and the house winner of the week are shared with parents via Class Dojo. At the end of each half-term, the house with four consecutive wins is awarded a trip chosen by the house manager in collaboration with their team and weekly golden times.

We want our pupils to develop strong teamwork skills and strive for a bigger prize by helping and encouraging each other. Our house system is based on a collaborative effort.

Children are placed in one of four houses upon entering school. They are given a coloured badge representing their house.

- The house of Abu Bakar Red
- The House of Umar- Green

- The house of ALI- Yellow

If any changes are needed, staff and pupils will discuss them together with the support of the Restorative Practice Representatives, led by the Wellbeing Lead.

PLAYGROUND

All staff will follow the Behaviour Policy in the playground and continue to observe and reward positive behaviours through house points and praise. To maintain the safety and well-being of all pupils, ALL incidences of misconduct in the playground will be recorded using the 'Good to be Green' behaviour logs.

All playground incidents are recorded on Incident report sheets if a child receives a red or yellow card and are recorded on a data sheet to ascertain trends.

If a single/group of child/ren are consistently breaking the conduct behaviours, a member of staff might be required to monitor and record their behaviours on the attached form (Appendix 1)

RISK ASSESSMENTS

When a child consistently displays unsafe behaviours within school, a risk assessment will be written to ensure that a duty of care can continue for that child and all other members of Assunnah Primary School. In some cases, such as school trips, children with behaviour risk assessments may not be able to participate if it is felt that the risk cannot be managed effectively and all other alternatives are beyond reasonable adjustment.

PHYSICAL INTERVENTION

A small minority of pupils might require the use of positive handling techniques in order to ensure their safety, the safety of others and to prevent damage to property or to maintain the good order and discipline within the classroom. In such circumstances, the Head teacher and any chosen member of staff may do so. At this point, a positive handling form needs to be completed and logged, and parents will be informed by SLT or the Head Teacher. However, in some circumstances, at the discretion of the most senior member of staff involved in the incident, removing other children from the situation may be the most appropriate and safest for all involved.

PARENTS ROLE

- To make children aware of appropriate behaviour in all situations.
- To encourage independence and self-discipline.
- To show an interest in all that their child does in school.
- To foster good relationships with the school.
- To support the school in the implementation of this policy.
- To be aware of the school rules and expectations.
- To offer a framework for social education

COMMUNICATING WITH PARENTS

We support the early intervention of behaviours causing concern and work in partnership with parents/carers to support individuals and families. A high level of cooperation and open communication is seen as an important factor encouraging positive behaviour in the school. Meetings following negative behaviours will be scheduled so that parent/carers, school staff and the child can attend and discuss the incidents. It is vital that parents/carers attend meetings with school-based staff appropriately and act as role models for their children in how to speak to adults. Where this is not possible, the meeting will be adjourned and rescheduled. Following exclusion, children are not to return to school until an appropriate conversation has taken place between all parties.

Structures designed to maintain high levels of communication among staff, pupils, and parent/carers have been established and are being reviewed regularly. Parents are encouraged to talk in confidence to teachers or other members of staff about any significant developments in a child's life, in their past or present, which may affect the child's behaviour.

If disruptive behaviour becomes a frequent occurrence by a group of pupils or an individual, we will evaluate school procedures and seek external advice from outside agencies to manage the behaviour. Individual pupils may require an Individual Behaviour Plan to work through a period of persistent misconduct. Where a pupil is under the guidance of an Individual Behaviour Plan, their behaviour may be managed in ways outside of this policy. We reserve the right to agree IBPs with parents and pupils where appropriate, and cannot discuss the conduct of, and provision for, individual pupils with non-family members.

POWER TO DISCIPLINE BEYOND THE SCHOOL GATE

Schools have the power to discipline pupils for misbehaving outside of the school premises "to such an extent as is reasonable". Non-criminal bad behaviour and bullying that occur off the school premises and are witnessed by a staff member or reported to the school may result in a sanction at the discretion of SLT/Head teacher.

School may discipline pupils for misbehaviour when the pupil is:

- taking part in any school-organised or school-related activity or
- travelling to or from school, or wearing a school uniform, or in some other way identifiable as a pupil at the school.
- or misbehaviour at any time, whether the conditions above apply, that:
- could have repercussions for the orderly running of the school or
- poses a threat to another pupil or member of the public or
- could adversely affect the reputation of the school.

In all cases of misbehaviour, the school will discipline the pupil only on school premises or elsewhere when the pupil is under the school's lawful control.

School reserves the right to confiscate pupils' property and has the power to search without consent for any prohibited items (Education Act 1996)

The safeguarding of all pupils and staff, including those with SEN, is of paramount concern to us, and every step will be taken to ensure that pupils at Assunnah Primary School are happy, safe, and in an environment that fosters learning and wellbeing, in accordance with the school's legal duties under the Equality Act 2010.

Suspension, Permanent Exclusion and Right of Appeal

Whilst the school does not regard suspension as a preferred disciplinary measure and seeks, wherever possible, to resolve behavioural concerns through early intervention, pastoral support and restorative approaches, there are circumstances where suspension is necessary. Where there are serious or persistent breaches of the school's Behaviour and Discipline Policy, or where a pupil's conduct presents a risk to the safety, welfare or education of others, or gives rise to safeguarding concerns, the school reserves the right to impose a fixed-term suspension or, in the most serious cases, permanent exclusion. Any such decision will be made having regard to the particular facts of the case, the school's policies, and the need to safeguard the welfare of all pupils and staff.

Parents or carers who wish to challenge a decision to impose a fixed-term suspension or permanent exclusion may submit a written appeal to the Board of Directors within 10 school days of receiving written notification of the decision. The Board of Directors, having had no involvement in the original disciplinary decision where reasonably practicable, will acknowledge receipt of the appeal within 5 school days.

The Board of Directors will consider the appeal fairly, impartially and in accordance with the school's Behaviour and Discipline Policy and any other relevant policies and procedures. In determining the appeal, the Board will consider the grounds of appeal, the evidence relied upon in reaching the original decision, and any written representations submitted by the parent or carer before reaching a final determination.

The Board of Directors will ordinarily communicate its written decision within 20 school days of acknowledging receipt of the appeal. Where additional enquiries are required, or exceptional circumstances mean that more time is needed, the parent or carer will be informed of the reasons for the delay and provided with a revised timescale. The Board's decision will be communicated in writing and shall be final under the school's internal procedures.
